THE best investment is that which gives the largest return for the money laid out. A sick man, unable to attend to his business, must necessarily lose his time, whilst his expenses goes on with unremitting waste. One dollar spent for that restorative cordial, "HEINITSH'S QUEEN'S DELIGHT," secures the blessings of health, removes disease, invigorates the whole system, and, in short, makes the sick man well. Democratic Manual Convention,

The Democratic party, in National Convention assembled, reposing its trust in the intelligence, patriotism and discriminating justice of the people—standing upon the Constitution as the foundation and limitation of the powers of the Government, and the guarantee of the liberties of the citizen, and recognizing the questions of slavery and secession as baving been settled, for all time to come, by the war, or the voluntary action of the

by the war, or the voluntary action of the Southern States, in Constitutional Conventions assembled, and never to be renewed or re-agitated, do, with the return of cace, demand:

1st. Immediate restoration of all the States to their rights in the Union, under the Constitution, and of civil government to the American people.

2d. Amnesty for all past political offences, and the regulation of the elective franchise in the States by their citizens.

3d. Payment of the public debt of the United States as rapidly as practicable; all moneys drawn from the people by taxation, except so much as is requisite for the necessities of the Government, economically administered, being honestly applied to such payment; and, where the obligations of the Government do not expressly state upon their face, or the law under which they were issued does not provide that they shall be paid in coin, they ought, in right and in justice, be paid in the lawful money of the United States.

4th. Equal taxation of every species of States.

4th. Equal taxation of every species of property, according to its real value, including Government bonds and other public securities.

cluding Government bonds and other public securities.

5th. One currency for the Government and the people, the laborer and the office-holder, the pensioner and the soldier, the producer and the bond-holder.

6th. Economy in the administration of the Government; the reduction of the standing army and navy; the abolition of the Freedmen's Bureau, and all political instrumentalities designed to secure negro supremacy; simplification of the system and discontinuance of inquisitorial modes of assessing and collecting internal revenue, so that the burden of taxation may be equalized and lessened, the credit of the Government and the currency made good; the repeal of all enactments for enrolling the State militia into national forces in time of peace; and a tariff for revenue upon foreign imports, and such equal taxation, under the internal revenue laws, as will afford incidental protection to domestic manufactures, and as will, without impairing the revenue, impose the least burden upon and best promote and encourage the great industrial interests of the country.

7th. Reform of abuses in the administration, the expulsion of corrupt men from office, the abrogation of nscless offices, trial interests of the country.

7th. Reform of abuses in the administration, the expulsion of corrupt men from office, the abrogation of uscless offices, the restoration of rightful authority to and the independence of the executive and judiciary departments of the Government, the subordination of the military to the civil power, to the end that the usurpations of Congress and the despotism of the sword may cease.

8th. Equal rights and protection for naturalized and native-boun citizens, at home and abroad; the assertion of American nationality which shall command the respect of foreign powers, and furnish an example and encouragement to people struggling for national integrity, constitutional liberty and individual rights; and the maintenance of the rights of naturalized citizens against the absolute doctrine of immutable allegiance and the claims of foreign powers to punish them for alleged crime committed beyond their jurisdiction.

In demanding these measures and re-foreign powers to punish them for alleged crime committed beyond their jurisdiction.

In demanding these measures and reforms, we arraign the radical party for its disregard of right, and the unparalleled oppression and tyranny which have marked its career. After the most solemn and unanimous pledge of both Houses of Congress to prosecute the war exclusively for the maintenance of the Government and the preservation of the Union, under the Constitution, it has repeatedly violated that most sacred pledge, under which alone was rallied that noble volunteer army, which carried our flag to victory.

Instead of restoring the Union, it has, so far as is in its power, dissolved it, and subjected ten States, in times of profound peace, to military despotism and negro supremacy.

It has mullified there the right of trial by jury; it has abolished the habeas corpus, that most sacred writ of liberty; it has overthrown the freedom of speech and the press; it has substituted arbitrary seizures and arrests, and military trials and secret star-chamber inquisitions for the constitutional tribunals; it has disregarded, in time of peace, the right of the people to be free from searches and seizures; it has entered the post and telegraph offices, and even the private rooms of individuals, and seized their private papers and letters, without any specific charge or notice of affidavit, as required by the organic law; it has converted the American capitol into a bastile; it has established a system of evice and edictions and event of its individuals.

dividuals, and seized their private papers and letters, without any specific charge or notice of affidavit, as required by the organic law; it has converted the American capitol into a bastile; it has established a system of spies and official espionage to which no constitutional unonarchy of Europe would now dare to resort; it has abolished the right of appeal on important constitutional questions to the supreme judicial tribunals, and threatens to curtail or destroy its original jurisdiction, which is irrevocably vested by the Constitution, which is irrevocably of the file and partizan charges preferred against the President, Its corruption and extravagance have exceeded anything known in history, and by its frauds and monopolies it has nearly doubled the burden of the debt created by the war. It has stripped the President of his constitutional power of appointment even of his own Cabinet. Under its repeated assaults, the pillars of the Government are rocking on their base, and should it succeed in November next, and inaugurate its President, we will meet, as a subjected and conquered people, amid the ruins of liberty and the scattered fragments of the Constitution; and we do declare and resolve that, ever since the people of the United States threw off all subjection to the British crown, the privilege and trust of suffrage have belonged to the several States, and have been granted, regulated and controlled exclusively by the political power of each State respectively, and that any attempt by Congress, on any pretext whatever, to deprive any State of this right, or to interfere with its exercise, is a flagrant of each State respectively, and that any attempt by Congress, on any pretext whatever, to deprive any State of this right, or to interfere with its exercise, is a flagrant of each State swill be entirely absorbed, and an unqualified despotism be established volutionary, and void; that our soldiers and sailors, who carried the flag of our country to victory against a most gallant and determined foe, must ever be gratefully remembered, and all the guarantees given in their favor must be faithfully carried into execution.

That the public lands should be distributed as widely as possible apong the

That the public lands should be distributed as widely as possible among the people, and should be disposed of either under the pre-emption of homestead lands, and sold in reasonable quantities, and to none but actual occupants, at the minimum price established by the Government. When grants of the public lands may be allowed, necessary for the encouragement of important public improvements, the proceeds of the sale of such lands, and not the lands themselves, should be so applied.

That the President of the United States, That the President of the United States, Andrew Johnson, in exercising the power of his high office in resisting the aggressions of Congress upon the constitutional rights of the States and the people, is entitled to the gratitude of the whole American people, and in behalf of the Democratic party, we tender him our thanks for his patriotic efforts in that regard.

Upon this platform, the Democratic party appeal to every patriot, including all the conservative element and all who desire to support the Constitution and restore the Union, forgetting all past differences of opinion, to unite with us in the present great struggle for the liberties of the people; and that to all such, to what-the people; and that to all such, to what-ever party they may have heretofore be-longed, we extend the right hand of fel-lowship, and hail all such co-operating with us as friends and brethren.

The Wild Man on the Manitous,

A correspondent of the Cleveland (Ohio) Plaindealer gives this interestaccount of the pursuit and probable death of a wild man on one of the Manitou Islands in Lake Michigan:

Our party consisted of six men and two boys, with several dogs that we proposed to use in case a chase was necessary. On reaching the island, we divided into three parties of two each, the boys going by themselves. Signals were agreed upon in case we came across the strange monster, and we all started with a firm determine we all started with a firm determination to thoroughly explore the island and capture the creature if possible. It must have been 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when the report of a gun from one of the exploring parties gave us notice that the unknown had been discovered, and we all at once hastened to the spot. I was so for-tunate as to be within a short distance of the scene of the discovery, and was soon upon the spot, and found two of our party parleying with something or somebody that they had chased into a tall beech tree. His description tallied exactly with that given in my former letter.

It was a form that had the appearance of a man, at least eight feet tall, entirely naked, with his body covered with hair. His face had the appearance of intellectuality, his brow being quite high, his beard descending nearly to his atomach, and his hair was disheveled and coarse. Though I am of the opinion that he could not have been over six feet high, my companions differ from me. His language was perfectly unintelligible, sounding more like the growl of a bear than that of a human being. When we pointed our guns at him, he would howl, gnash his teeth, and run like a monkey higher up the tree. After holding a consultation of war, we concluded to adopt peace-ful measures, and sending for our basket of provisons, and laying aside our guns, we, after an hour or more spent in conversing, induced the stranger to descend the tree. He had no sooner struck the ground, than one of our dogs started for him, and, evidently frightened, he started upon a run, we all following him closely. He gained rapidly upon us, but the dog overtaking him, he turned, and, grasping the animal by the throat, literally tore him to pieces. Throwing the dog's carcass upon the ground with evident discrete he again started towards the gust, he again started towards the lake, where, as he arrived on the edge of the sand, we saw him throw himself fearlessly into the blue waters of Lake Michigan. For a time he swam out boldly and gracefully, but while some of our party went out in quest of our boat, those who remained to watch him saw him rise several times in the water as though in agony, and then beheld him sink to
